Minutes from Holiday Luncheon, December 9, 2025

Thirty members and one guest attended our 2025 Holiday Luncheon at the Williams Inn. We enjoyed its easy access and ambience. In a private room with a wall of south-facing windows a bartender served seasonal cocktails, wines and soft beverages.

White table cloths set off red, green and brightly decorated Holiday centerpieces made for the occasion by Club members. A special thank you goes to those who met at Diane Van Kempen's to create bows (several large boxes of them) and other decorations for the greens workshop led by Diane and Katie Lanoue on December 3rd at The Harper Center. More than a dozen club members mingled with a lively group of Center residents and other members of our community. Advice was asked for and freely shared, and old and new friendships were nurtured.

Our lunch was served buffet-style, with soup, salad, and a variety of sandwich ingredients followed by silky gluten-free chocolate cake.

We serenaded Anne Lamb Tiffany on the occasion of her 96th birthday, drew lots from Santa's hot pants see who got to take a centerpiece home, and photographed four attending presidents: past and present.

No one thought to measure the conversational jollity and decibel level in the room... but they were definitely high!
